"I was asked to produce a Frank Lloyd Wright inspired roofline and exterior for our best selling luxury design and this was the result. This home has been covered in print and Television, and was responsible for the beginnings of The MSA Prairie phenomenon starting in The Northwest. My original client was moved profoundly when we showed him the preliminary design. The floor plan has always been popular for us, but with this roofline and exterior detail we have something very special indeed. The exterior architecture is complimented by the wise use of space inside this luxury design."
